CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

QUALITY HOMES LA MANGA CLUB

What can I say, but what a year? All the cliches about not seeing pandemic coming, the worse year this century, a game-changer, etc., have been used by people far more knowledgeable and eloquent than me. So, I won't even try to compete. Suffice it to say the Owners Clubhouse has risen to the challenge, regrouped and survived.

Despite all the difficulties, after the initial lockdown, the Committee and Joaquin took a deep breath, reorganised and got on with serving owners, while respecting the frequent and oft-changing national and regional COVID-19 regulations. Though recent weeks this has included a takeaway service, many owners commenting on the excellent standard of the dishes on offer. Plus, making plans to offer two x three-course turkey dinners, with all the trimmings, including a bottle of wine, for just €50 on Christmas and Boxing Day.

What 'rules' will apply at Christmas and on New Year's have not been announced, but one way or another festive fare will be on offer. If outside, many will have seen that numerous gas patio heaters have appeared on the terrace over the last week or two. So, whatever happens, we'll do our best to stay open and keep people warm and cosy.

This year Bridgette Field and her helpers will be decorating Christmas trees and preparing the Clubhouse for the festive season. Our thanks to them for generous help and also giving their time so freely.

Events Director Gill Schofield and Joaquin have been working hard, even though organising things has been more difficult than usual. Nonetheless, the Anglican Bishop of Spain, Carlos Lopez Lozano, held a communion service last September, while Gill has also organised for Laly Garcia (known to many as a singer at the Piano Bar, but perhaps unknown as a qualified language teacher), to give Spanish lessons in 2021.

The Owners Clubhouse sponsor's the El Buen Samaritano charity in Cartagena and were pleased to help Eileen Dunmore and Dorle Gehmacher, with their annual food donation session in the Clubhouse car park on Sunday, 15th November. The ladies and their helpers collected an impressive circa 800 kilos of food.

I must not forget to mention our sponsors, whose support through the year has been truly appreciated and we look forward to working with them next year.

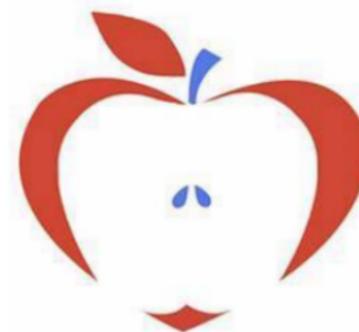

Finally, even with the current uncertainties, may I wish all owners and their families a happy Christmas and a very prosperous New Year.

Best wishes,

Stewart Harris, Clubhouse Chairman.

SO MANY GOOD MEMORIES

SO MANY GOOD MEMORIES

Abbie Delamare: In February 2017, I hit 60! I wanted to celebrate this milestone with good friends. The venue wasn't a difficult decision; there was only one place I wanted it to be, the Owners Clubhouse at the La Manga Club resort.

I didn't want a typical fancy dress party. So, I asked my guests who their heroes were over the last sixty years, and to come dressed as them on the night? Wow, did they step up to the mark! I celebrated with every known super hero; film stars, music legends, sporting icons, not to mention security par excellence provided by the members of Dad's Army.

As always Joaquin and his staff provided delicious food, and excellent service, nothing was missing, other than Tom Jones, alias Joaquin Valencia. Everyone danced (and sang) the night away to music old and new, again provided by the Owners Clubhouse.

I couldn't have wished for a more memorable sixtieth birthday, a view endorsed by all who attended, who said it was simply the 'best' night.

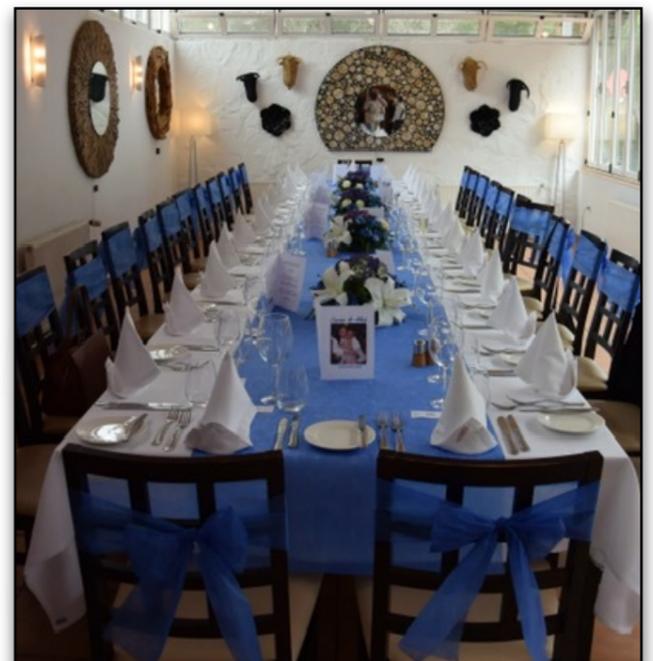

Alain & Carine Hendrickx: We wanted the most important day in our lives to be magical and create memories for the rest of our lives. We also wanted to pamper our guests and make it a memorable day, and a great gastronomical experience for them. But most of all, we wanted to enjoy the day without any worries.

After having been to see several possible venues, the Owner's Clubhouse topped the list. We had several meetings with Joaquin to discuss the menu. He even suggested that we should try some of the dishes he was recommending, as not all of them were on his regular menu. As for wine selection, it was never going to be easy, so we had to endure lots of tasting! Joaquin also took care of the room and table decorations. Our only guideline were that our clothes were blue and white, and the decorations must be complimentary.

The day started very badly! We went to the notary with our family members for the ceremony, only to find he had forgotten to prepare the necessary documents. So, we had to endure a two-hour delay! Fortunately, Joaquin and team took good care of our guests.

When we finally arrived at the Clubhouse, the first surprise was seeing the dining room and the beautiful way in which it had been decorated. We couldn't have expected anything nicer. The food, the wines and the atmosphere were superb. Our guests were delighted.

All in all it was a perfect day and this text is to once again to thank Joaquin and team for being so attentive to our needs, and also helping make our wedding the most magical day of our lives.

SO MANY GOOD MEMORIES

Tudor & Breega Gregory: We moved to La Manga Club in January 2004 after Tudor retired. Initially, we kept a house in London, but spent very little time there, as it was always La Manga Club which really felt like home.

Sixteen years on, we still spend a lot of time travelling, as

The 31st May 2020 date was entered into the Clubhouse online diary, as early as December 2019. Our families' world-spanning travel arrangements booked and their accommodation reserved.

"What shall we wear" became a very popular topic, especially if invited to more than one of their many celebrations.

Then Covid and lockdown struck! We waited patiently, hoping for the best. Still, as deadlines for travel cancellations came into play, we realised it was going to be the worst and that we would have to cancel.

At the start of May, there was a light on the horizon, with the introduction of new social distancing and numbers restrictions. Thoughts of cancellation faded, and we were optimistic about the possibility of holding a party. All be it smaller and simpler, even if sadly our two sons and our daughter's families could not attend.

So, the once in a lifetime Golden Wedding anniversary party took place and it was a wonderful evening that given a choice no one would have missed for the world. Waiters served plates of delicious tapas to masked and seated guests, while also topping up wine glasses. No glass was left empty for very long!

Many thanks to the Owners Clubhouse and all the wonderful friends we have made over the years. We feel so blessed. Also thank you, Tudor, for fifty great years and counting.

our children live in Dallas/Texas, Perth/Australia and Plymouth/UK. Nonetheless, there was only one place to hold our Golden Wedding anniversary party and that was La Manga Club. So, we started planning well before the summer of 2020.

We spent many fun evenings discussing several party venues at the resort. However, apart from the beautiful El Rancho gardens, the Owners Clubhouse became our first choice. How could it not be with Tudor's intimate knowledge of virtually every wine available, as a result of helping with the gentlemen's Wine Club?

Ted & Sally Francis: Our Favourite Restaurant? The Owners' Clubhouse. We have been coming to La Manga Club since 1989 and having found our paradise in the sun, bought our El Rancho property in 1993. Our early recollections of the 'Club' are very different from today, but even though the Owners Clubhouse has changed over the years, it remains our favourite restaurant. In the early days we joined in the famous Thursday Scramble and very soon met lots of lovely people and enjoyed the evening presentation.

We have so many happy memories of numerous special occasions at the Clubhouse. The beautiful part is that we can walk there and stagger back home. The headaches the following mornings have been worth it and trips back to the Clubhouse for their excellent coffee have always restored us back to normal!

Our special birthdays have always been celebrated with our friends at the Clubhouse. So, where else would we have chosen for Fred's 90th birthday in 2018? Some 120 of our friends and family celebrated in style. Joaquin provided an excellent menu, fabulous decorations and a giant cake, while good friends provided a fantastic cabaret. You won't be surprised to learn that we have booked the Clubhouse for Fred's 100th birthday in 2028! We have yet to agree on the menu!

Last year we celebrated my special birthday (I refuse to tell you how many years) and Joaquin provided my all time favourite dish, namely beautifully presented Lobster Thermidor.

Joaquin and his staff have always made us so welcome, the food is delicious and the service outstanding. Also, in these challenging times, we have enjoyed some great meals delivered to our door. My only complaint is that Joaquin doesn't come back and do the washing up!

We would like to thank the Clubhouse, Joaquin and his lovely staff for so many happy memories. We look forward to many more..

How are you all doing down there? Are you gearing up for festivities and music at Christmas, and the New Year or are they all on hold due to COVID-19? I'm looking forward to getting back to see you all and picking up microphone once again. I've already done a few gigs up here, but that was before the regional government introduced tighter regulations. I can't wait to see the back of this year and this awful virus!!

Quality British Butcher

It seems a long while since I wrote to you in the sponsors' newsletter back in April. By then, Spain, the UK and most of Europe had entered into lockdown. Regardless, I don't think anyone could have predicted the challenges that everyone would be facing through 2020. To plagiarise from the Queen's Christmas Day speech nearly thirty years ago, 2020 has been an 'annus horribilis'. Despite this, during my visits to Spain and also La Manga Club, I have been amazed by the camaraderie and fortitude displayed by people. On behalf of everyone at Missing Links, I would like to offer our heartfelt commiserations to those who have been adversely affected and to send them our best wishes for the future.

In my second year as owner of Missing Links, I would have liked to say that the business has been going from strength to strength. However, like many retailers in the area that rely on a mostly UK centric customer base, both resident and tourist, it has been a challenging year. As spring turned to summer, we became re-energised, as it seemed La Manga Club would start returning to 'normal' with the resort getting busier during July. However, the UK government's introduction of new quarantine regulations stopped the tourist trade in its tracks, and we have all be living with the challenges of this restriction ever since.

Nonetheless, it was pleasing that Missing Links was able to sponsor the end of July BBQ at the Owners Clubhouse. The evening was a huge success, with many diners completing the quiz correctly and claiming their free sausages! I hope everyone who attended had as much fun as we did. As always, our huge thanks go to Joaquin and his staff for all their hard work. Unfortunately, visitor numbers to the resort declined through the rest of summer and with COVID rules tightening, sadly we had to shelve a repeat event.

As summer turned to autumn, we became very aware of the significant impact the pandemic was having on those wishing to return to Spain for the winter months. Inevitably, this had a knock on effect and impacted on many businesses in the area, including Missing Links.

In this context, it is with regret that we had to make some changes to staffing levels at the shop. It is always difficult to say goodbye to long-standing colleagues, who have become friends. Nonetheless, I would like to take this opportunity to say a huge thank you to Roy and Adu who both left in November. I'm sure we will all miss their happy personalities and consistent focus on excellent customer service; we wish them well for the future.

Looking to the future, despite this year's challenges, we remain optimistic. We are committed to continuing to offer the highest quality and variety of produce, together with the outstanding customer service that has always been the trademark of Missing Links. As we did during the 'full lockdown' in the spring, we will pivot our business to best meet your requirements. We will continue to offer a delivery service to all residents within the Club; plus be as flexible as possible and react to any changes in local rules and legislation. In this regard, your feedback is beneficial and always welcome as we develop our plans.

I want to reassure everyone that I am committed to ensuring Missing Links can serve the community of La Manga Club for many years to come. It may not have been the start we all expected when we took over the business in 2018. However, Steve and I are focusing on ensuring that the business does whatever is needed to serve your needs best. Our one plea is that, notwithstanding these difficult times, everyone continues to support thier local businesses, which are so important to the successful future of the La Manga Club resort and its community.

This point certainly extends to the festive season. I appreciate that many of you will be going to local restaurants for Christmas lunch and New Year's Eve dinner. However, for those of you who are staying at home, perhaps with close family, Missing Links will be offering a full selection of Christmas produce. The choices will include several customer favourites imported from the UK. We would be grateful if you could let us know your orders by 16th December, so that we may ensure we have everything in stock and avoid any disappointment.

Finally, from all at Missing Links I would like to wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year. May 2021 be a new start to the roaring 20's!

God Bless. Annabel.

LALY GARCIA - SPANISH LESSONS

ART CLASS CHRISTMAS COLLAGE

Hola! My name is Laly; some of you may know me as a singer and have seen me performing La Manga Club, where I've worked at the Principe Felipe hotel for eight years (in the Piano Bar to be precise) and also at different private parties around the resort. I have also had the pleasure to sing at the Owners Clubhouse: let me say, you are one of the best audiences I've performed before in my whole career, dancing from the very first song, which is something that's very much appreciated by entertainers.

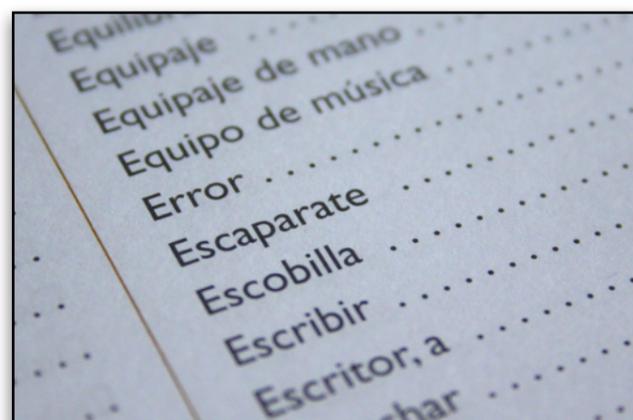

extra exercises, which I will share if you want to work at home on the ideas covered in class.

I also like to offer my students the possibility of choosing the theme of a class. For example, someone may have a doctor's appointment in the weeks ahead and would like to review what kind of conversation they are going to encounter. I then prepare lessons that focus on the phrases that they will most likely hear and need to respond to.

As you all know, getting immersed in a country, which is not where you were born or have lived most of your life, is complicated. It is not only about learning the language, but also the becoming familiar with its traditions, history and the culture in general. That's why I like to share pieces of information and interesting facts about Spain in general, and Murcia in particular.

Learning a new language is a fantastic journey, and I'm not going to lie, it's sometimes it can be difficult. However, when you see the results of your hard work, it makes everything worthwhile. Also, remember, I will be by your side all the way, helping make the journey as productive, easy and fun as possible.

Lessons will be 1-hour duration. In the first month (trial) lessons are paid for on a lesson by lesson basis, and then in subsequent months, the whole month in advance. For further information, please contact me at lalygc@hotmail.com or call on +34 669 578584.

Throughout my life, I've had two passions, one LANGUAGE and the other MUSIC. I have focused one hundred percent on both. In this context, I have a degree in English Filology (the study of history, literature, grammar, phonology, phonetics, poetry, etc.). I started to work as a teacher, and singer, while I was studying in Murcia. On reflection, I consider myself a fortunate person, as I have been able to make a career out of the two things in life that I enjoy most.

Recent months have been tough, and my work as a singer has been badly affected. The reason I decided to focus on teaching, which is why I am now offering Spanish lessons to La Manga Club owners.

Let me explain something about my approach to teaching Spanish. My classes will comprise a maximum of three students, all of who will be at the same level in terms of their ability to speak Spanish. I will always supply a written schedule for each class, setting out what will be covered. For example, how to say "I like" in Spanish (Me gusta mucho aprender español), practising that verb and vocabulary. Most of the time, focusing on speaking, as I don't want to bore you with lots of grammar and writing. Rather, my aim to have my students conversing in Spanish as soon as possible.

For dedicated learners, I have an extensive library of

KINGS COLLEGE MURCIA

KINGS COLLEGE MURCIA

This year, the traditional "back to school" looked like it was going to be challenging. New security protocols and rigorous social distance rules threatened to dampen the students' excitement to see remarkable capacity to adapt that the school and the whole community has shown, so as to give the best experience to everyone. Stefan Rumistrzewicz, the headteacher of the school, explains.

During the lockdown, Kings College Murcia was able to switch to online immediately. How did you achieve that? Doing this was a challenge. However, since the implementation of our digital strategy some years ago, we have been prepared from a staff training perspective. All our teachers are proficient in the use of Google Classroom and other online classroom providers, thus making the transition relatively seamless. Even so, I must give a great deal of credit to my teaching staff and also our ICT support team. Both worked tirelessly throughout the lockdown period to ensure the online provision maintained our high standards and gave our pupils the best experience possible.

For this academic year, how did you adapt to the new health and safety protocols? Throughout the summer holidays, we created a series of strategic plans and protocols to match those imposed by the local government. Once prepared, we shared these with our whole school community. We were also well placed in terms of the school's established Health & Safety systems; plus the support received from Inspired Group Central Services in Madrid.

their classmates and teachers after many months apart. However, the "new normal" at King's College Murcia has been surprisingly positive: Virtual road races, percussion "play-along" competitions and constant and fluid online communication between parents and teachers, are just some examples of the

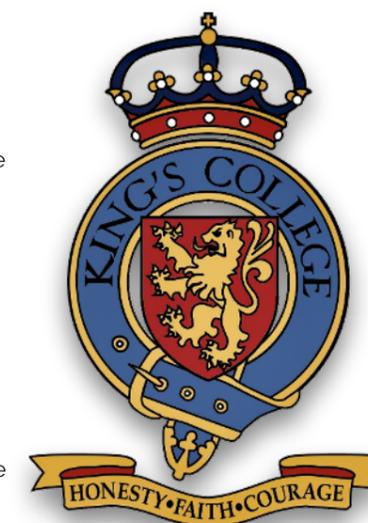

We are very proud of our school and always strive to maintain the highest standards.

How have the students, teachers and parents adapted to the "new normality" at schools? An interesting question. Now, wearing masks and social distancing and so on have become very much normalised in our community. Indeed, the fact that I have just used the term, 'social distancing' and we all know what I mean by that says it all. There have been many positive aspects to the new normality, many of which we had not anticipated.

Do you think Kings College Murcia has been able to offer the same high-quality education, despite the challenging circumstances? Yes, I believe we have. In the classroom and around the school, all protocols are being maintained, and pupils are making good progress. Indeed, they are all glad to be back, as are we, after so many months away. For those still at home, we have also been able to continue offering our online provision. Pupils are joining their peers virtually, via cameras on staff Chromebooks, or through cameras on the ceilings in the classrooms.

Of course, the restrictions have meant that we have had to be extremely creative, not least in the Music and PE departments. I have been genuinely astounded by how our PE team have managed to maintain our inter-house competitions by creating new 'COVID-friendly' ones. For example, the 'Virtual Road Race' - where pupils send in their GPS-tracked running times, or the 'Virtual Fitness Competition', again where pupils sent in videos. In Music, as singing is not possible, 'play-alongs' have been created. Key Stage 1 (ages 5-7) singing, has become a significant event, with the whole section, socially-distanced, 'bubbles' maintained and on the main playground beating rhythms or doing the 'Cup Song' (from the film 'Pitch Perfect').

For example, until now, parent presentations would involve inviting parents to come in after school and to present to them a particular topic (e.g. university entry). Whatever, this would be delivered by a member of staff and also translated. Now, we pre-record these, showing both the member of staff presenting and the presentation itself. We also record a separate translation. These are then made available to parents who can watch them at their leisure. We then provide a Q&A session online a few days after publication, thus giving parents a chance to watch the presentations and time to think about possible questions. Feedback from parents has been overwhelmingly positive about this method of communication.

SHANE MANNER TILES

CLUBHOUSE PARTY MEMORIES

Brighten things up with beautiful hand painted tiles, painted by local artist Shane Manners. They make a perfect gift for your home, garden or a friend.

By day, Shane is a local gardener who owns the company '50 Shades of Green'. Many Owners already benefit from his extensive knowledge of plants and his combination of artistic flair and garden care. By night he runs a local bar in Los Belones. During his spare time, he is a talented artist.

He started painting tiles to brighten up the Covid lockdown mood, and the Owners Clubhouse were introduced to him just recently. As a local talent, we have decided to host his unique work through December. This opportunity will allow LMC Owners to buy tiles as low price gifts or to put a smile in a bland corner of your home or garden. Tiles are fully waterproof and so can be displayed both inside and outside.

Perhaps the bathroom or the kitchen would benefit from a seascape or a lighthouse? Maybe you would prefer a peacock, gecko or flower tiles to highlight a part of the garden or perhaps dragonflies or butterflies? Could you see a place in your home for the atmospheric African based tiles depicting the big 5? Or, why not brighten up your fireplace this Christmas with a nativity scene, a snowman or a larger than life Father Christmas?

Inspired by the things around him and his imagination, Shane's ability for the subject work is extensive. If you have a special request for a bespoke tile or a set, you can simply order from him directly. In the meantime, the display of his current work may be perfect for you to purchase at the Clubhouse and take away.

Of course, as we write this, Covid restrictions prevent us from spending time inside of the Clubhouse. Still, you can take a quick look on your way through and then when you are at your seat, simply let the staff know if you would like to have one or more of the tiles on display.

Tiles are 10€ each, and you can buy them individually or as a set.
